Political Situation in England Acute | Sifton to Announce Policy Next Week

NOVEMBER 28 IS DATE FOR DISSOLUTION OF COMMONS

Premier Asquith Declares Matter Now Rests in Hands of Lords—Lansdowne Calls Veto Conference Breach of Faith

London, Nov. 18.—Premier Asquith announced today that dissolution would take place on November 28, with elections as soon after as possible.

London, Nov. 18.—The House of Commons was packed to every corner when the speaker took the chair today. Every seat was occupied and the dignified and respectful legislators were compelled to sit on the tops of the gangways. The galleries were so crowded that the members of the commons and the peers were crissed in some numbers in the corners of their gallery that it was not possible to distinguish the dividing line between the commons and commons. The stranger's gallery was filled up within a few minutes after the doors were opened.

An Historic Occasion.

It was an historic occasion, when by many a mark a definite cleavage in the constitutional forms of the mother of parliaments.

Premier Asquith, rising to make his statement, said that the delay in making the motion standing against his name and the statement which precedes it.

Governments Intention.

Asquith announced that the budget would be proceeded with under summary procedure by a resolution existing that the parliament would be given the opportunity of discussing the whole financial policy of the government at a later date.

"It is the intention of the government," he said, "to pass the essential features of the budget mainly in the income tax, but dry and sinking provisions to remove partial disparities for old age pensions and then to dissolve parliament on November 28th should the lords in the meantime reject the government's veto bill."

The premier also announced that the government proposed next year to bring in a bill for the payment of members.

Now Up to the Lords.

The government thus puts it straight up to the house of lords, giving that body the choice between accepting the government plan or reforming the upper house or an immediate dissolution.

Asquith, referring to the alternative vote conference between the leaders of the government and the opposition said that when the house adjourned today the conference had already held twelve sittings.

"I am able, as the mouthpiece of my colleagues," said the premier, "to announce that we were of the opinion that it would be wrong to attempt to break off the negotiations. Further sittings took place during the recess and I am not ashamed to confess that I hoped to the last such an

"We shall have mowers and implements of all kinds with clothes and provisions for at least one year, and secure a complete hunting outfit. We will have money over and above that, sufficient to keep."

The party consisted of eight, Mr. Wade, two sons, one unmarried daughter, a married daughter, her husband and children. They will remain in Edmonton making preparations for their winter expedition. Mr. Wade is the best of American pioneers, resourceful, energetic, alert.

MEXICANS MARCH ON TEXAS VILLAGE

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 18.—The editor of the "Hustler" at Mirador, a small town east of El Paso, wired last night: "Deputy at Mirador telephones that an armed band of sixty Mexicans have crossed the river near there and are marching on this town. Four soldiers already started for the river and in the meantime town officials of Mirador are organizing an armed force to protect the people."

TO CLAIM RIGHTS.

Mr. A. Bramley Moore, member for Alexandria, is so introduce in the legislature on Monday, a resolution calling on the Dominion government to hand over to the province the right of management of minerals, fisheries, timber and local resources, including, water power. At the present the right of control of all the resources is vested in the Dominion. The majority of the other provinces have acquired the right of management, with the possible exception of Quebec, who has considered that this province is within its rights in making the demand.

The resolution was introduced last session, but was laid over. At that time it did not include water power, but this session Mr. Bramley Moore has amended it to include the scope of this resolution.

Continuing, Mr. Asquith said: "The lords will be given an opportunity of saying yes or no to the government's veto bill in the coming week. There is no question of a conference, then, this. It is a question of acceptance or rejection. The time has come for the controversy which obstructs the whole path of progressive legislation to be sent for a final decision and arbitration to the national tribunal."

Mr. Asquith denied the assertion of the Conservatives that the government was acting under pressure, saying that he understood that the charge was that pressure was being applied "by the sinister hand of the black angel of this political drama, Mr. Redmond."

DRYDOCK IS SUBSIDIZED

Dominion Will Have Dock on Burrard Inlet to Build Government Ships

Vancouver, Nov. 18.—An agreement has just been entered into whereby the Dominion government will subsidize the Vancouver dry dock and shipbuilding company to the extent of 3.12 per cent, on the estimated cost for twenty-five years, in consideration of which the company will build a dry dock at Roche Point on Burrard Inlet, the Dominion government to have prior rights for all Canadian or British naval or government vessels.

Construction is to commence within six months and to be completed by Dec. 31, 1912. The estimated cost is $2,124,654 so that the annual subsidy will be in the neighborhood of $24,000. President L. Thompson and secretary Frank Bonney, Jr., signed for the company, resident engineer, G. T. Keeler, representing the government.

EMBRYO CITY ON G.T.P. LINE

Trochu, 75 Miles From Calgary Has No Steel Yet, But Plenty of Sand and Ginger.

One of the towns in the south, half being created by the construction of the branch line in Alberta is Trochu, on the T.P.C.-Calgary line of the G.T.P.

Trochu is 122 miles from Tofield and 75 miles from Calgary. It is south-west of the Red Deer River in a section of country which is already famous as a farming country, although it has never yet enjoyed railway transportation.

Track laying on the G.T.P. which was stopped at the Red Deer river bridge, just south of Afton, this fall will be completed through to Trochu next spring.

Trochu is already something of a metropolis. There is a $250,000 hospital owned and operated by an order of nuns, a Catholic, Methodist and Baptist church, a Catholic high school for girls, general stores carrying large stock in every line, a branch of the G.T.P. and the regular places of business, such as blacksmith shop, implement agencies, lumber yard, etc. Taxation last year was only $1 mill.

Trochu has no place yet on any regular map, but it is regarded as a permanent feature by the people who are resident there already.

THEY COURTED FOR 15 YEARS

Late King Leopold's Youngest Daughter Weds Prince Victor Napoleon

END OF ROMANCE

Her Father Objected to Her Marriage to a Pretender, But When He Died Opposition to Union Ceased

Turin, Italy, Nov. 18.—The most romantic Royal unionship in the annals of Europe culminated today in the marriage of Prince Victor Napoleon, heir apparent of the King of Italy, to the youngest daughter of the late King Leopold of Belgium.

The ceremony was celebrated in Monza castle in the presence of Queen Margherita of Italy, the Duke of Aosta, representing King Victor Emmanuel, the Duke of Genoa, the Duke of the Abruzzi, the Duke of Salaparuta and a host of lesser members of the nobility of Italy, as well as a considerable gathering of distinguished Belgians.

Long Love Match. The love match of the Royal couple extends back over a period of 15 years. Marriage was impossible during the life of King Leopold, who showed the most bitter hostility to the courtship on the ground, he frequently declared, that the marriage of a princess to the son of a pretender was an insult to the eyes of the world as a party of a pretender and an affront to a friendly nation.

The Princess Clementine is 38 years old and she has frequently been termed the most attractive Royal Princess in Europe. Prince Victor Napoleon is 32 years old and he is rapidly advanced under the partnership of Empress Eugenie, whose favorite dream it has been for years.

JOY OVER RECOGNITION OF THE NEW REPUBLIC

Lisbon, Nov. 18.—Germany today followed the example of Great Britain, France, Spain, and Italy, and resumed friendly relations with the Portuguese Government. The action of these Governments is regarded as a virtual recognition of the Republic of Portugal, and last night there was a mammoth torchlight procession headed by Republican leaders in celebration.

SPENT 15 HOURS IN WITNESS BOX

After two days and a half in the witness stand, J. J. Demma's evidence in the Clover Bar case was concluded this morning. Mr. Demma has come through a baptism of fire as he has undergone a most searching cross-examination, not on general matters, but of minutest details of the case.

It was expected that the case would be finished to-morrow a noon, but with a large number of important witnesses yet to be heard from there seems no likelihood of finishing this week.

PROVINCIAL PREMIERS TO CONFERENCE NEXT MONTH

To Discuss Representation of Provinces in Dominion House—Premier Sifton May Not Be There.

A conference of provincial premiers is to be held in Ottawa on December 1st, according to a telegram received by Premier Sifton this morning from Sir James Whitney, premier of Ontario.

The decision was made following a conference between Sir James Whitney, premier of Ontario, and Sir Lomer Gouin, premier of Quebec, at the late conference in James and Sir Lomer were appointed the convenors of all future conferences.

It is understood that the main purpose of the proposed conference will be to discuss the basis of representation in the Dominion house, as it affects the various provinces. The maritime provinces are especially interested in this discussion, as they are threatened with a further loss of representation following the next census.

Their proposal, it is said, is to have the act amended so that the minimum representation of the Atlantic Coast provinces will be fixed at the number they were given when they entered confederation. In addition to the question of representation, the matters involving questions of jurisdiction, education, and interprovincial economies will probably be discussed.

PREMIER TO ANNOUNCE HIS POLICY NEXT WEEK

That Daily Capital's Report of Caucus Published Yesterday is Correct Evidenced by Anxiety of Members to Learn Source of Information.

It is generally accepted in political circles today that the Capital's report yesterday of Premier Sifton's policy as announced at the caucus Wednesday night was substantially correct. The correctness of the report is practically established by the anxiety displayed by certain members to learn the source of the Capital's information.

No official announcement has been made, however, but it is understood that the premier will make an announcement in the House in the course of the next week, probably before the introduction of legislation dealing with the Waterways contract.

So far only one member of the House has declared himself, Michener, Red Deer, opposition leader, making the statement last night that in his opinion the premier's proposal was absurd.

No member on the government side of the House has yet offered to break the silence.

Vancouver, Nov. 18.—The C. P. R. does not recognize any dispute with its deckhands and does not intend to pay any compensation in existing conditions, declared Capt. Troup to the conciliation board appointed under the Labour Act. The deckhands of the company's coast service complained of the hours and alleged unsanitary conditions on the vessels. Their chief demand is for what is known as the "Watch and watch" system and pay of five cents per hour. Capt. Troup said the men had never approached the company either through their captains or otherwise and the company took the stand there was no dispute to adjust. The board is Judge McInnes, chairman, Geo. E. McCrossman and J. H. McVitty.

DARING SMUGGLER AT LAST ARRESTED

Marquis Capponi, Famous Outlaw of Noble Family Captured Trying to Cross Line

FOUGHT WITH GUARDS

Superintended Personally Incursions of Armed Bands of Smugglers Over Fence.

Edmonton, Nov. 18.—Marquis Gino Capponi, a member of a famous old Florentine family of that name, has been arrested at Varese under extraordinary circumstances. Marquis, who is now 54 years of age, played a role at the head of a powerful band of smugglers, mostly of Neapolitan origin, operating on the Italian-Swiss frontier, with ramifications in most of the big Italian towns. The Marquis was condemned by the courts to life imprisonment for his part in the smuggling of goods, which were distributed by parcel post to hundreds of agents.

"I am happy and I cannot see why others should mourn when my happiness is so great," he said last May, last. He had managed to escape capture by fleeing to Lugano. He continued to superintend the incursions of his armed bands into Italy, carrying cargoes of contraband tobacco, choice lace, watches, coats, sugar, and huge quantities of securities, which were distributed by parcel post to hundreds of agents.

VARSITY STUDENTS HAD LIVELY TRIP TO KINGSTON

In the Words of Old Bill Shakespeare, "They Put the Train on the Blink." The Raid on the Lunch Counter Will Go Down in History.

Kingston, Varsity supporters in the old days took some lively trips, and had joyous times, but by long odds the bunch that accompanied the three Varsity teams to this town yesterday is the liveliest crowd since the big college has let loose in several years. A hundred and fifty strong, they set sail from Toronto by the 1:50 p.m. train. They had fun all the way down, and last night the way they loosened up Kingston was the village police think the whole college had moved down and brought all the noise from the west end of the country down with them.

Fun Started Early

The fun started as soon as the train pulled out of the Union Station. The "wise guys" immediately arrayed themselves in sweaters and old clothes and cut loose. Before they had gone far they discovered two immaculately dressed young students in a double seat talking to two young women. In a trice the rail robbers were nipped, dispossessed of their hats, carried, kicking and struggling, back to the private car reserved for the students. Two men replaced the ejected, and a five-minute time limit was counted, and every five minutes another raid was organized.

At Ottawa the entire student band disembarked with the young ladies and escorted them to the car, singing "Good-Bye, Ladies."

The Maypole Dance

At Port Hope a group led by "Reddie" Dixon—former Edgewood, Ewart, Gladstone, Dixon—formed a ring around two Port Hope girls and danced the Maypole dance. Their gray-haired dad essayed to "lead" the ring, but he was yanked into the ring, while the bunch sang, "What's the matter with father?" A moment later the boys were chasing a full oil barrel and two tracks up and down the platform and chased everybody to cover. The immediate proximity of a load of coal and an electric light suggested target practice. Good-bye light.

"The light is worth half a dollar, but guess we will get a bill for ten," sighed E. M. Watt, the secretary. Twenty Minutes for Refreshments. "Now lo, Colbourne and the lunch counter," cried Dixon, and he and Hugh Gail dug up a couple of fruit baskets and prepared. They hit that lunch counter like a Kansas cyclone. The waiters saw them coming, and grabbed everything within reach and thrust it beneath the counter. They were not half fast enough. Dixon came out with a basket of sandwiches and a dozen boiled eggs. Scrimmage Carroll strolled down the platform munching a chicken.

At the provincial meeting in Red Deer the Edmonton-Strathcona district was named as consisting of three teams from the former city and two from the latter.

The Capital asked Vice-President Dobson yesterday if that number was definitely decided on in event of any other Edmonton teams desiring to enter the district, could they do so. Mr. Dobson said that the number was set at three on account of Calgary only entering two teams, both of which will be very strong. It was felt that by entering more than three teams, Edmonton would be handicapped in the Provincial championship would be materially diminished as it is doubtful if there were enough class players in the city for four or five teams.

However, it rests with the City League to decide as it is immaterial to the A. A. H. A. how many Edmonton teams enter. In fact they rest they lie loose in the general chaos.

At Belleville the lunch counter, warned by wire from Colbourne, was prepared, so the crowd stole a barrel of apples, and spent the rest of the journey to Kingston lording each other with fruit.

Lively Time in Kingston

At the station here they were met by a big crowd and marched to the Randolph Hotel, singing college songs. After a lively supper at the hotel they started out to have some fun. Every time the main crowd found a pair of their number escorted girls, they captured them, serenading the girls and taking the trunk back. They visited all the picture shows, and when the tunes did not please the girls they cut loose with popular songs and parodies. One crew, led by Jeff Taylor, Dalton Young, and Alouque, located a dance and proceeded to join the party. They went up the stairs three steps at a time and came down in two jumps. They were vanquished by one woman. She ran that dance, and when they blew in she 15; into them like a hen defending her chickens. She got them all out except Taylor, who slipped into a cosy corner and concealed himself, tried to pretend he belonged there. The "hooking doing" song was sung on Jeff when the bunch came back and bawled him out. It was surely some lively night in Kingston, but the pranks were all harmless and accepted good-naturedly.

ANOTHER MOONLIGHT SPIRIT

The following self-explanatory letter has been received by the Sporting Editor of the Capital:

Strathcona, Nov. 17, 1910.

Dear Sir: I notice by last evening's Journal that Mr. George Perks considers himself some class as a moonlight sprinter. Now, I claim that on several occasions I have hung up fast time for the 100 yds, and would be very glad to meet Mr. Perks at an early date. My records have generally been made with a policeman in close pursuit, but I think I can run equally fast without any artificial stimulation.

There is only one condition attached to my challenge, namely, a nice fat chicken must be placed at the finishing tape. (Signed) Sam Brown, (colored) P.S.—Does Mr. Perks consider me a casual an absolute necessity? S.I. Note—We are printing this challenge in perfectly good faith, though it does seem to have been written with "fool" intent.—Ed.

We beg to inform our many patrons that we are using a temporary label for our "Capitol" Beer as an injunction has been granted by the Courts restraining us from using our original "Capitol" label pending our law suit with the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, of St. Louis, Mo. INSPECTION OF DAIRIES

To the Editor of Daily Capital:

The consumers of milk in Edmonton had a glimpse into the method followed by our Dairy Inspector as brought out in the investigation before the Commissioners last week. The first charge of impartiality in not receiving samples from the Inspector of samples taken for examination was disposed of by saying there was no impartiality shown as no samples were given to any dairyman. Yet Sec. 20 of the By-law 182 which governs this part of our civic machinery distinctly states that samples shall be given when asked for, the impartiality is not in refusing samples, but in the fact that certain dairymen do not have faith in the inspector to give the honest result of test of these samples, and they want to check him up when reports are adverse. It is their right and the inspector should be refused samples until such times as he is prepared to act up to the by-law. The city has no right to break its own by-law. Again, it was conclusively proven that the inspector in advising patrons of the Edmonton City Dairy to ship their milk direct to Edmonton and he would recommend the milk to customers was going away out of his way so far as his duties are concerned. He knows very well that the Edmonton City Dairy was not in his favor when he was appointed, holding and properly so, that where only one inspector is employed that such an inspector should be a veterinary surgeon.

So far as posting one's self as to the requirements of the by-law in regard to housing the animals and care of barns, etc., any ordinary man could by studying the by-law a couple of hours be able to tell at a glance if dairies were being properly managed, but is he capable to diagnose disease in the cows that give the milk. From the evidence produced he pays very little attention to the cows. Some herds he has not examined at all, yet we all know that we cannot get good wholesome milk from a diseased cow, and at the same time the milk will have butter fat that will register 4.35 per cent, while all that Edmonton requires is 3.5 per cent, and many if not the majority of Edstern cities only demand 3 per cent.

Again at the investigation a dairyman was called by Mr. Prevey, and Dr. Whitehead said right before our Commissioners that if Mr. W. wished the public to know what kind of a dairy Mr. W. kept let him go on the stand and give evidence. Mr. W. did not give the evidence. The threat of the Medical Health Officer was sufficient, and yet our Commissioners did not seem to object to this intimidation. Does Mr. W. keep such a disgraceful dairy that he is afraid the public will know about it, and yet our efficient Dairy Inspector and Medical Health Officer are evidently parties to such conditions, and is not this same dairyman, Mr. W., at present supplying milk to the Children's Aid home? What we want are paymasters enough for it, and enough to warrant good wholesome clean milk. If our Inspector cannot show anything but testimonials in lieu of ability let him go, and let us get one who can inspect our milk supply.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor,

ONE OF THE CONSUMERS

THE PLASTERER'S STRIKE

Editor, Daily Capital:
Since our issue of today, I notice that an article on the present strike in the city was published under the caption in heavy faced type: "Bricklayers' Alone Refuse Strikers' Aid." In the article itself the sentence, "The bricklayers alone withheld their support" occurs. This, I claim, in a paper whose circulation is not confined to Edmonton, tends to bring about a feeling of approval against the bricklayers' union of this city, by those who are not conversant with the true state of affairs. The bricklayers' union, as you Sir, know full well, are working under an agreement with the Edmonton Builders' Exchange which provides that the bricklayers' union shall not enter into any sympathetic strike with other trades. Whether this clause should or should not, have been embodied in that agreement is not the question; the fact is—it is there, and the bricklayers' Union in making no move, are simply adhering to the agreement which was signed by a committee appointed for that purpose drawn from the Union and the Builders' Exchange. If the bricklayers were to violate that agreement, I dare say, Sir, that the next issue of your paper would contain a heavy headline, stating that the bricklayers had broken faith with the Exchange followed by an editorial article in which you would endeavor to show the unreasonableness of organized labor, by showing they couldn't keep it.

This is in no wise an official letter. I do not claim that it represents the views of the union; my only excuse for writing it is, to endeavor to free the union, of which I am a member, from the suspicion that most necessarily rest upon them as a result of your article of today, the bricklayers do not sympathize with their fellow-workers in their fight for the principles of unionism. The bricklayers are bound on their honor, so Sir, be careful and do not excite them to do that which would give the employers of labor an opportunity to take odium against the value of the honor of organized labor.

Yours truly,
F. BLAKE.

TOO KIND

"Can you tell me," said the cool-looking young lady in white, confidentially approaching the young man at the soda fountain "the most agreeable way to take castor oil?"

"Oh, yes, indeed," replied the man, his eyes brightening. "And while you are waiting," he added, "won't you have a glass of soda?"

"Oh, thank you," said the young lady, as he set it down before her. The day being hot, in a few moments she drained the glass.

"Is the prescription ready?" she asked sweetly, wiping her mouth.

The young man's eyes gleamed with benevolence. "The prescription," he said, capping the glass, "was in here."

"Do you mean to say I've drunk it?" she screamed. "But it wasn't for me; it was for my little brother!" And she swooped from the drug store.

"It's too bad," sighed the young man, "and she was one of our best customers!"

"But she isn't any more. Daily the doctor the drug store across the way, where they took before they leaped—Washington Post.

FUNNY STORY
KILLS LISTENER

Fresno (Cal.) Man Laughs Himself to Death at a Housewarming Party

Fresno, Cal.—N. C. Shabbazian, a member of the American colony here, died at his home, 221 St. street, as the result of a funny story told at a housewarming party that he attended. Shabbazian, who was a tailor, had a great reputation for his genial nature. A friend was narrating his experience of a hunting trip several days before when Shabbazian was so tickled with the story that he began to laugh loudly.

His friends were terrified when he broke a blood-vessel at the base of his brain and tumbled over unconscious. He lingered for two days without recovering consciousness.

THE LOST OCCASION.

Farwell, fair day and fading light!

The daybreak, here, with merriment

right:

Marble the fangs snarl now downward

dark,

Farwell, we twain shall meet no more.

Farwell, I watch with baring sign,

My fate confirmed occasion die,

I linger useless in my tent.

Farwell, fair day, so faintly spent!

Farwell, fair day, if any day!

At all consider this poor clod,

How the fair occasion sent

Prepared and placed the impudent

Let him deliver vengeance take;

Give me to sleep, since me to wake

Circleled soul, and bid me play

The hero of the coming day!

PROFESSOR ROBERTSON ON THE CONSERVATION IDEA

Canadian Club Heard Forceful Address on the Work of Two Great Commissions Yesterday.

The true significance of the great bodies, the Commission of Conservation, and the Royal Commission on Technical Education, in relation to the future well-being and destiny of this country was expounded in a forceful address to the Canadian Club by Professor Robertson, chairman of the Royal Commission now holding sessions in this city. As Professor Robertson spoke, the members of the club, and the members of the Commission of Conservation, and the members of the Commission on Technical Education, were present to discover and maintain the resources of the country, while the Commission on Technical Education is to investigate and decide what is to be done with them.

The luncheon was largely attended, and besides the members there were present many members of the Legislature and other prominent citizens. At the table with the President of the Club, Major W. A. Griesbach, and the guest of honor, were Dr. T. H. H. W. A. Buchanan, and Hon. Charles Fisher, speaker of the Legislative Assembly.

The only way to build up the country was to know what we have within its boundaries—the material possessions, and the human resources. Then it was necessary that those material possessions should be used to the best advantage, and the human resources should be used to the best advantage. The Government established the Commission of Conservation. Others had given attention to the matter, but we are doing in Canada, the conditions throughout the country and for what the people should have.

"One cannot intelligently grasp the extensiveness and vastness of the resources of this country," continued Prof. Robertson. "It is a great land, yet unexplored, with forests still beyond the reach of surveyors, minerals unexplored, and the scientific world, fish and waterpower going to waste. These are only some. And when a man begins to realize this, the pride he takes in his country increases. We are young—beautifully young, and this country is the last and greatest inheritance ever granted to an intelligent race."

Professor Robertson went on to explain the foundation of the Conservation Commission. It was one of the outstanding achievements of Theodore Roosevelt. He called for the attention of the governors of the various states of the union in 1908, and set on foot a policy of conservation. The movement spread until finally Canada, Newfoundland, and Mexico had joined together to conserve the resources of the continent. The Canadian Conservation Commission comprised the members of the Dominion Cabinet, and the representatives of all the provinces, with Hon. Clifford Sifton, late Minister of the Interior, as chairman.

It was the duty of the Conservation Commission to see that the next generation received into their keeping the resources of the country not impoverished but improved. This great country was not meant for any individual. It was bestowed upon the people for the benefit of the whole and they were answerable for it. The

CREDIT MEN MEET

Winnipeg—The Canadian Credit Men's Association held their annual meeting for November at the Royal Alexandra Hotel.

Mr. H. H. Pigott, the president, occupied the chair, and over eighty members attended.

Different phases of the insurance problem affecting both wholesaler and retailer were discussed at length. The insurance companies made the delivery of a pamphlet that it is intended to distribute throughout the country, pointing out the necessity and advantages of keeping fully insured and offering suggestions as to the best method of keeping properly insured. In dealing with the matter, the pamphlet points to the necessity for an annual stock taking and the keeping of a proper set of books, so that in case of a fire loss, an adjustment of the loss can easily be arrived at.

It was reported that the fund of $100,000 for the preservation of the antiques was being largely subscribed to and it was anticipated that before the next meeting on the 14th of December that this amount would be at the disposal of the committee to take up any case where found is considered to be of historical value.

It was anticipated that considerable improvement would result from a conference between the managers of the committee dealing with the subject.

The finance committee submitted a highly satisfactory report, and from the estimates for the coming year, it is so gathered, that considerable surplus would result from the first year's operations, notwithstanding the very heavy initial expenses of organization.

The clearing House committee report was enthusiastically received, showing as it did a large increase in the number of members, the result being a correspondingly increased mass of information collected and distributed through the agency of this Department.

Reference was made to the value of the press reports that had appeared from time to time, and which by giving publicity to the matters under discussion, were naturally helping along the work of the association.

It was stated that the "Uniform Financial Statement Blank" was being largely used, and members were asked in sending these out to customers, to accompany same with the pamphlet published by the association pointing out the advantages of mutual confidence between wholesaler and retailer, particularly in the rendering by the latter of a yearly statement showing his progress.

The membership committee reported that the members enrolled to date exceeded 250 and urged the members present to endeavor to increase this to 300 before next meeting.

A feature of the evening was the lively discussions upon the reports submitted showing the active interest in the work of the association by the members and a desire to accept only the very best suggestions for the improvement of credit conditions.

The legislative committee reported that various matters were under consideration, such as the issuing of "No Fund" cheques, fraudulent statements to mercantile agencies, the securing of some quicker method for the investigation of the ownership of real estate and the registration of assignments of book accounts.

It was intimated that a pamphlet was being prepared for distribution dealing with the subject of the advantages of taking proper care of Mercantile paper due.

The "Oxford" Male Quartette, supported by Mr. Porter, ventriloquist, furnished a pleasant break in the usual business routine.

DENMAN CASE

A motion made this morning by J. H. Leech, counsel for the Clover Bar Coal Company in the supreme court precipitated a spirited conflict with Mr. Q. M. Biggar, counsel for J. J. Denman. The motion called for the admission into the statement of defence of certain particulars in addition to others ordered by Mr. Justice Beech. The particulars in question related to weight tickets alleged to have been raised in November, 1908. Mr. Biggar objected that they had nothing to do with the contract entered into by J. J. Denman with the Clover Bar Coal Co. in April, 1909.

"What we say is," said Mr. Leech, "possibly my clients would not have entered into the contract had they known of the weight ticket incidents. We hold that they would put in an important position, only a man without a stain and a man who had kept himself in good repute before the public. In making agreements with a man, character and previous dealings with him were a good deal to do with the bargain."

The whole matter, as urged by Mr. Biggar, is that the charge of raising the weight tickets was a public matter as it had come by way of a criminal charge against the bookkeeper in the district court in July, 1908, in which Judge Taylor acquitted the accused.

The defendants, the Clover Bar Coal Co., claim that when they entered into the contract on which Mr. Denman's case is based, on account of Mr. Denman's confidential relations with them they did not get independent advice and were not in a position to enter into it, failing to realize the danger to the smallest detail that was material, even if it was a matter of a criminal charge. Mr. Leech supported his contention by appeals to the decisions of the House of Lords and Judge Stuart reversed his decision and admitted the evidence.

An examination of the books was then begun, but the judge's decision showed that money accumulated was not put to the credit of the firm in the bank. Asked by Mr. Leech Mr. Denman's case is based on account of Mr. Denman's confidential relations with them they did not get independent advice and were not in a position to enter into it, failing to realize the danger to the smallest detail that was material, even if it was a matter of a criminal charge. Mr. Leech supported his contention by appeals to the decisions of the House of Lords and Judge Stuart reversed his decision and admitted the evidence.

The Y. M. C. A. mass meeting on Sunday afternoon next at 3 p.m. in the First Presbyterian church will be addressed by Rev. T. Albert Moore, secretary of the Temperance and Moral Reform League. Mr. D. K. McGregor, the baritone, will then be heard.

Heron of the Paris Conservatoire of Music will play on the saxophone. All men are cordially invited.

No Time To Prove It

It is said that ninety-two million germs have been discovered on a single dollar bill, with the aid of a microscope. The average man never

"So you, a general manager of the company, come along and tramp up a counterclaim," Mr. Biggar rose to protest. "I object, my lord."

"There has been more than a mere matter of fact," Mr. Leech said. "The fact comes along and produces books for which my client is not directly responsible, and without allowing him a chance for explanation, uses such words as 'trumps up a counterclaim.' It isn't professional. I don't think my learned friend can come here and gratuitously insult my client."

The point was still under discussion when court adjourned at 12:45.

SOWING SEEDS OF THRIFT.

The silver dollar which Mr. Rockefeller gave to an Ohio boy because the latter had given the oil man a bunch of flowers has been put to a use which has lent it to him, giving it (therefore) to costs an hour. Doubling one's capital in a day is all that even a man like Mr. Rockefeller would want to ask. It is worth giving a dollar for him to see how well his example and precepts for thrift in the young have borne fruit.—Chicago Tribune.

Violin Buried With Owner

At the funeral at Colchester of Mr. Magin, an ex-army bandmaster, violin, for which deceased had recently refused an offer of fifty guineas, was buried with him, having been previously placed in the coffin.

The Y. M. C. A. mass meeting on Sunday afternoon next at 3 p.m. in the First Presbyterian church will be addressed by Rev. T. Albert Moore, secretary of the Temperance and Moral Reform League. Mr. D. K. McGregor, the baritone, will then be heard.

Heron of the Paris Conservatoire of Music will play on the saxophone. All men are cordially invited.

UP TO THE GOVERNMENT TO BUILD THE ROAD.

If the bright young men who furnish the copy for the evening papers were not mis-informed, Premier Sifton has decided upon a course with regard to the Alberta & Great Waterways which is not at all likely to be popular in Edmonton.

According to the reports gathered at the caucus Wednesday evening the premier intends to abandon the whole project of a road into the north country. As a pacifier the C.N.R. is to be encouraged to hurry construction to the Athabasca for Fort Assiniboine.

From the point of view of an unsophisticated observer, the proposition looks like one which the premier could well afford to reconsider.

The one thing which Edmonton and the whole of Central Alberta needs at the present time is a road which will open up the north country.

The problem is simple.

All the country which has so far been opened up in this province is farming country. What the province needs to complete its prosperity and make it secure is access to a country which is not essentially a farming country, but which will for that very reason furnish the farming country with a market.

So far the province has not had the difficulty of getting rid of a surplus, for the reason that British Columbia and the Klondike has always taken all the butter, eggs and hay that the province had to ship. But the rapid development of the farming industry presages a day when there will be more farm products ready for market in this province than the country across the range can take, and unless the north country is opened up the farmers of the province are going to find themselves in a very bad position.

A road to the Athabasca, which Premier Sifton is reported to be favoring as an alternative, is not an alternative for the road to the north for the reason that the Fort Assiniboine line would not furnish any agricultural market close at hand, but would do just the opposite—open another large farming area.

No public spirited Albertan would for a moment urge any objection to the extension of the C. N. R. in a northwesterly direction. This road should be built right through to the Peace river country, and the sooner the better.

But the road to the north country must also be built. When it is considered that two hundred and fifty miles of line to Fort McMurray will connect this city with nearly two thousand miles of water communication in a country which is known to be rich in timber, fish, mineral, oil, asphalt, petroleum and many other resources, and which would furnish the finest kind of a market for the small produce of the farming country, it needs no argument to show that the premier's proposition to abandon the road is scarcely what Edmonton looked for from the present government.

It makes little difference to Edmonton who builds the road, nor how it is built. Construction by contract under a government commission would absolutely safeguard the province, and would insure the construction of a proper road. If the legislature could not agree on that system of construction, some other might do; it is up to the government to get the road built.

A REAL MEASURE OF RELIEF
Bill No. 29, being entitled an act respecting charges upon land contained in certain instruments, is the formal title of an act introduced in the legislature under the fostering care of Duncan Marshall which, when passed, afford a real measure of relief and satisfaction to the agriculturists of the province than probably any other bill passed by this or any other Canadian legislature.

It is a simple little bill of only two clauses, and while the language is the involved legal phraseology which is generally used to describe a simple provision, its purpose is clear enough to those who understand.

The purpose of the bill is to abolish forever the iniquitous system by which machine companies sell farmers implements and take a lien on all their possessions.

The necessity of the bill does not have to be explained to the farmer. He appreciates it all too fully now. Many of them have had the experience of overlooking the nonpareil type at the bottom or on the back of the lien which they signed, to discover when the crop failure overtook them that they had given a mortgage on their farm, and that failing to produce the pound of flesh they were in the hands of the machine agents to the limit of the law.

The Marshall bill provides that, notwithstanding anything that may be printed or written on a machine note, the company cannot claim a mortgage on the farm.

It is brief enough, and to the point. Hereafter, when a machine agent sells a machine he will have to accept the same standing as any other creditor that the farmer may happen to have. The machine company will not have the privilege of breaking up the farmer's home in case a crop should fail.

JUST PARAGRAPHS.

The London Daily Mail says that Yankee gold is being used to put the house of lords out of business. Probably those Gothic towers have become so tired buying dukes for their daughters to decorate a false social standing with that they have decided to stop the business entirely by cutting off the supply.

Petitions for the reprieve of Dr. Crippen are all in. The doctor will now await with interest the deliberations of the home secretary.

Anarently the Bulletin's advice to the W. A. P. on how to run a telegraph service must have gone astray in the mails.

Edmonton is the only Canadian provincial capital which is not represented in the cabinet of its provincial government. In the language of that great, conservative spellbinder H. B. Ames, "this accident or design."

If there are any really naughty movie pictures in the city this commissioners would like to know where they are.

CUPID'S AGENT

SENT TO PRISON

Matrimonial King Creates More Orders by Bachelors Than He Can Fill.

OUTLINES IDEAL WOMAN

"Handsome, Age 18, 5 Feet 6, Weight 140, Worth $22,000, Nice Form, Good Cook"

Chicago—After ten years as America's most honey-nosed siren of the rockbound costs of matrimony, Isaac R. Warn was sentenced yesterday to fourteen months in the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth.

He was sent to prison because he couldn't "make good." He used so well the strings of bachelors' hearts he could not produce enough women.

Warn was indicted a year ago for using the mails to disseminate his matrimonial information and to gather in the $5 subscription "lets" sent in by eager bachelors all over the country.

He called his agency the "Warn Directory," and named his wife, Mrs. Kate Warn, as proprietor.

He told Judge Landis in the United States District court, however, that his wife had nothing to do with his frauds and did not even know where the real business was in Chicago against her were dismissed.

When Warn was arrested Postoffice Inspector Mullin and Sharon seized large quantities of literature, much of which was presented in court. Among the letters sent to the men applicants was the following: Clients Write Bold, Forward Letters: "Dear Sir: The lady whose name we send you has come to us to find a suitable husband, so you need have no hesitancy in addressing her. Simply say to her that we have given you her name, briefly describe yourself, and request a further acquaintance, but kindly refrain from making too many inquiries in your first letter. Many of our clients write bold, answer, and when they receive no reply blame us for what they themselves have caused."

"Some of our clients," he said, "are ladies who are wealthy, dwell mainly on the money question, about which nothing should be said until several letters have been exchanged and an acquaintance has been formed, as no lady wants to think that she is being married mainly for her money, nor do we want her to think she is being introduced to a mere fortune hunter."

After instructing the subscriber in other ethics of the "love by correspondence" school the agency wishes the writer success.

Even Makes "Hit" with Prosecutor.
A list of "lady" applicants eager to meet their ideal and to see them in a home of their own and each worth from $10,000 to $20,000 was also mailed to each applicant.

One which Attorney Parkin described as "the concentrated ideal woman" follows:

"Handsome young lady, age 18, 5 feet 6, weight 140, light brown hair, blue eyes, lovely complexion, nice form, and splendid disposition; worth $12,000 and will inherit about $28,000 more; understands housework and cooking; will make home the happiest place on earth for true and affectionate husband."

A book entitled, "The Way to Win a Woman's Heart," also was sent out by the agency. Here is an excerpt from it:

"Accept my advice, dear friend, and marry. You do not know what it is to live alone uncared for, unknown when old age overtakes you. Solitude fits one with horrible agony. Solitude at home by the fireside at night is so profound, so sad."

CHORUS GIRLS' CONTEST AT THE LYCEUM

Thursday Matinee—The second act of the Telephone Girl was witnessed by a very fair audience, and all came away saying nice things about the production. To enable those who failed to see the first and second act of the Telephone Girl, Manager Lewis has decided to give both the first and second act, during the rest of the week this giving the patrons of the Lyceum the full show, new motion pictures will be shown between the acts, the usual one show only will be given out day on account of the length of the bill. The chorus girls promise some new stunts both in singing and dancing, and much fun is in store for those attending. There are many very pretty songs and rich costumes worn in the Telephone Girl, and those who saw the first part of the bill should not fail to see the rest of it.

Government Will Call for Tenders for First 150 Miles This Winter

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—It is understood that the estimates for the coming year will contain a considerable appropriation for the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway. It is the intention of the government to proceed vigorously next year with the building of the first 150 miles from the Passau enders will be called for this winter, and for the balance of line will be called for as soon as the route is definitely located.

SONS OF SCOTLAND

THE SONS OF SCOTLAND BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION, BLACK WATCH CAMP, NO. 202, SCORED A DECIDED HIT AT THEIR FIRST DANCE OF THE SEASON, HELD AT THE SEAGRADE SCHOOL HALL LAST TUESDAY EVENING.

Everything went with a swing. Expressions of surprise were heard on all hands as the company assembled at the tasteful and novel decorations of the hall, a special feature of which was the Canadian Naval ensign. This flag was kindly lent by Mr. Kenneth, of the Edmonton Tent Co., and is noted as being the first flag made and flown in Canada representing our Navy. The dance broke up in the "smoke" of the "merriment."

The company, which numbered over 150, fully appreciated the endeavors of the amusement committee, which, under the able guidance of Chieftain Thomas Nicoll, to make all present feel at home and thoroughly enjoy themselves. During the interval Chieftain W. B. Quinn, in a neat speech, extended to all assembled a hearty welcome on behalf of the Sons of Scotland. Brother P. K. McGregor delighted the audience by his rendering of Scotch songs, also with a neat and spirited exhibition of the Highland Fling. An affinity dance, introduced as a novelty, caused no end of amusement.

Most of the guests were from the city, also a few friends, were Highland costume. The various tartan lent color to the gay scene. The Sons of Scotland, though only a few months established here, are making rapid progress. The membership is increasing at a good rate, and the zeal and good fellowship shown by all from the Chief down, the Society proposes to be one of the strongest in the city.

The committee have decided to hold a smoking concert in the Seagrade School Hall next Tuesday evening, the 22nd inst. If the last smoking concert held by this Association is any criterion, the committee feel that this time the only front anticipated will be to find chairs for the crowd.

WANT REFORM OF MARRIAGE LAWS
Anglicans Object to a R. C. Archbishop Annulling Mixed Marriages.

PROTESTANTS COMBINING
Other Denominations Will Endorse Action of the Ottawa Deanery Today.

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—The action of Archbishop Bruchesi, of Montreal, in annulling marriages between Protestants and Roman Catholics solemnized by clergymen outside of the Roman Catholic Church will be fully discussed this afternoon by the Anglican clergy of the Deanery of Ottawa, who opened their annual conference today.

It is predicted that a condemnation of the archbishop's action will be made and a plan will be drawn up to bring the matter before the Dominion Parliament during the coming session with a view to having certain ancient laws governing the matter repealed and new ones made.

A good many public interest centres around this question. All the other Protestant Church officials are said to have promised to stand by the Anglicans in whatever action they decide to take.

AT THE EMPIRE THEATRE

A young man seated in a train on Christmas morning, just arriving at a very small village called Grand Crossings, is thinking of his friends that are just about to sit down to their Christmas dinner, in the large city that he had just left. Going inside the station, he meets a very pretty girl. While asking the direction to the only hotel in the village he explains his situation to the girl. Having been sent out to this village by his employers to get orders for the goods he was selling, he had to go even though he had to give up the prospect of having his Christmas dinner with his friends. While telling his tale of woe to the girl, a deep friendship springs up between the two. The girl being a telegraph operator and the ticket agent at the station, she brought her Christmas dinner with her. The dinner is eaten by the two, and in almost less time than it took to eat it they both fell in love with each other. The young girl when left an orphan inherited a very valuable tract of land, but owing to financial reverses she was unable to pay the taxes on it, consequently the property was seized by the sheriff, but only through the intervention of the railroad company, who wanting to build a new spur must get her land. She being ignorant of the amount her land is worth nearly lost it through a scoundrel in whom she had the utmost confidence. The "Traveling Salesman" hearing of the plot from the villain while in a drunken stupor, takes a midnight sleigh ride, and arrives in time to save the property for her. This short synopsis of the very best Comedy Drama ever presented. "The Traveling Salesman" should arouse the interest of all true show-going public. Miss Kennedy as Beth Elliott telegraph operator, will be seen in a part that is full of pathos and heart interest, while the little Comedian, Jack Westerman, will tell the reins of all the comely situations created to take away cheekbones and the worst case of gaudiness. "The Traveling Salesman" will be presented Friday, Saturday Matinee, and Saturday night, November 18, and 19.

CANNOT SUMMON DEAD MAN BY SERVICE OR PUBLICATION

Denver Judge Says Papers are not Read in Celestial Regions and Therefore Refuses to Reopen Divorce Suit.

Denver, Colo.—"It is manifest that the decree cannot be set aside unless the plaintiff is given an opportunity to resist the application. (As the plaintiff is dead and is either in a celestial or subcelestial region, it is clear that no personal service of notice can be made upon him, for if a sheriff attempts to serve him the sheriff will never get back. It is equally clear that the service cannot be made upon the plaintiff by publication. No angel would ever think of reading a newspaper. If this defendant is to be reannulled, it must be accomplished through the medium of some mystic force. The court is without the power."

Such was the decision of Judge John R. Dixon of the county court in denying the application of Mrs. Susannah D. Dubbs to have set aside a divorce decree against a dead man, James A. Dubbs, who divorced her on the grounds of cruelty last April.

Mrs. Dubbs made application to have the decree vacated, asserting that she could offer meritorious defense to the charge. Dubbs died shortly after to be one of the strongest in the city.

"It appears," concluded the court, "that the plaintiff was entitled to a pension. To reopen the decree now would create a spurious decree against the government."

Russian Censorship
An amusing blunder is reported from Moscow, on the part of the censor. A book had recently appeared on the breeding of horses. The censor considered it an indecent publication and all copies of the book were confiscated. Then it transpired that the author was no less a personage than Princess Gorkhalka, wife of the Governor of Kalougva. The authorities on discovering the situation, at once removed the ban.

The regular monthly meeting of the school board was not held last night because the meeting of the board desired to attend the session of the Royal Commission on Technical Education. The meeting will be held on Monday night.

DE CHANCES WE HAVE MISSED

Et's verree often hard to know de mos' right 'ting to do.
An' de hes' an' wisest 'ting you ought to say.
For plainree: tan you mak' de plan, an' after all tes' t'rou
You wish you'd done sot all some oder way.
An' ol' Bochehomme ees tellin' you how reech he might have been Eef he only took de chances as dey came,
For oder man's got millionnaire wit'out de chance he's seen—
An' eef he was not dam fool, he'd been de same.

For in de long long life-tam, lak w'at all ol' tanner got
You always get some chances offer you,
An' eef you do not tak' dem—den tet's Jus' as sure as not
Dis ees w'at ol' immauer tell you, w'at was here long tam ago—
Dat dey had de hardes' pull you ever see,
An' dey would have got l'argent wit'out any troubl', you know,
Eef dey had been educate lak you an' me.

Eet tak's de smart man nowadays to rustle all de can
An' place hees monnee on de sarsen' place,
For w'en you buy nice property from smartes' beezness-man
Eet neerly always prove to be de case
Dat you wish you'd made investment in some place de noder way
An' not have been so queek upon de buy—
For eef you always listen to w'at agent-teller say
You will neevair come reech man before you die.

You are vere lucky teller eef you always please yourself
An' neevair care w'at oder peop' ees say,
W'en you mak' de small investment an' have got few dollaire left,
An' are certain sure you got t'ree meal a day.
But w'en you mak' de purchase of fine suit of clo'es you wear
Eet mak' you varree mad—dat radez comee—
W'en man, dat should know bettailre, say, wit' mos' insubling stare,
"Dat style was manufacture on de ark."

Eef you try an' plessee de whole world you will neevair once succeed,
So try an' please yourself—
Pray you famine an' starve
An' eef you lose some chance—
Dat ees not so strange indeed.
An' lak ol' Bochehomme, you talk of dat long tam:
Dat mus' be kin' ol' pleason 'ting, w'en you are comey man
An' sit bettailre de fire, an' "sikke de fis",
And tell ees jeunee "ou" d'you-lak w'at all ol' sammer can—
About de many chances you h' miss'.

Eef you had only bought de house an' lot on Reevev View—
Eef you had only speculate' jus' so,
Eef you had bought dat Coal Share at de price was offer you,
You might have been de reech man long ago.
Eef you had place your monnee on de oder horse instead—
Eef you had knowed dat Jeffrey would have lost—
Eef you had not been sapro fou'an' not been off de head
You might have done so many 'ting. Ba Goss'.

You hear whole lot of peop' sayin' how man dat's dead an' gone
Was reecher, stronge, an' dan man ees now.

I doo' know w'at's de raison, for de worl' we're leevin' on Ees jus' about de same place anyhow.

Eet geve me lois of plaimainment to hear of man comess
Wit' de tear upon de eye—dat's verree sad;

Hay dey used to miss de chances, (jus' de same we do I guess)
An', of course, dey often felt eet pretty bad.

W'atver chance dere used to be, we got dat chance today—
Only mebbe in some oder place instead.

An' eef's verree forfith talkin' 'bout dat "good ol' fashion" way,
W'ee'd de bes' way ees de one dat gets ahead.

De only way to get along ees mak' yourse' believe
De worl' ees not so awful peck 'n place.

An' w'at you miss de chances w'at you tink you should receive,
Dat oder man got smile upon hees face.

Famous Women as Vegetarians

The Countess of Warwick is one of the latest converts to a vegetarian diet. One is inclined to believe that her ladyship has renounced flesh food in order to preserve the superb lines of her figure. Lady Warwick was getting very stout before she adopted a vegetarian diet. Since then 1st Floor

Mme Sarah Bernhardt renounced flesh food for the reason that she found a vegetarian diet was conducive to a more youthful appearance. She had not imbibed smoked foods.

Vegetables are grated raw and made into delicious combinations of salads for her. She eats raw peanuts and uncooked cereals and avoids wines and all other alcoholic beverages.

Among other well known women vegetarians are the Czarina of Russia, Princess George of Greece, Cleo de Merode, Marie Corelli and Mme Mac-terlinck.
